

BETTER SERVICE.

MORE CARS TO BE RUN ON TELEGRAPH AVENUE.

The Oakland Consolidated Will See the Raise and Give Better Service.

There is a speck of war on the horizon. The Telegraph-avenue Electric Railway, between Oakland and Berkeley, is operated by the Southern Pacific connecting with the trains of that line at Seventh street, and also with the narrow gauge trains at Fourteenth street, Oakland. The Oakland Consolidated Railway is operated by F. M. Smith, the "horax king," and it connects with the Berkeley local trains at Dwight way and East Berkeley stations. There is this difference in the connections made, respectively, by the two electric street railways with the steam propelled cars of the Southern Pacific Company: The Telegraph-avenue line makes money for the Southern Pacific Company and the Oakland Consolidated Railway takes money from the Southern Pacific, which carries passengers free on its Berkeley line between Dwight way and Berryman station.

Two moves are to be made on the board which ought to intensify the rivalry between the electric lines. The Telegraph-avenue line is about to put into effect a six-minute service, that is, it will run ten cars per hour, one every six minutes during the day. The Oakland Consolidated road has a ten-minute service during the day and a twenty minute service at night, which means only six cars per hour during the day and only three per hour during the night. By this it will be seen that the Telegraph-avenue line plans to run forty more cars every ten hours than the schedule of the Oakland Consolidated line calls for. The purpose of the Telegraph-avenue line is to catch as much of the travel to and from the University as possible, and of the rapidly growing section east of the tracks in Berkeley.

News of this move has reached the ears of the Oakland Consolidated people, and the situation was thoroughly discussed by Superintendent Grim at the power-house of his line at Temescal yesterday afternoon, the discussion embracing the necessity for running more cars to accommodate the public and to meet the competition to be offered by the Telegraph-avenue line; also the subject of transfers at Temescal. The understanding in Berkeley is that the six-minute service on the Telegraph-avenue line will go into effect to-day, as conductors on that line have been notified to go on new runs. The Oakland Consolidated line has cars enough, by using the transfer system at Temescal, to largely increase its service all the way around its very large loop, via both Lorin and Shattuck avenues, and sufficient to give Temescal at least a six-minute service. It also has sufficient power, which can speedily be made available, having two engines, the larger of which has recently arrived, but has not been operated. This coming week promises to give Berkeley a better car service than it has had up to date.

Gross Carelessness.

On Saturday evening last at about 5:30 o'clock what might have been a very serious accident occurred in front of Mr. Wolfendingers saloon on the corner of Delaware and Third streets.

An old fellow who sells sausage, ham, pickles, etc., to the saloons drove up in a wagon and tied his horse to a post and went inside to supply his customer. He had been inside but a few minutes when his attention was attracted toward his wagon which at that particular moment was describing a circle in the air.

He rushed out and ascertained that a freight engine had struck the rear of his wagon and had lifted it right over the back of his horse without injuring him, leaving him standing in the shafts with nothing except the front wheels of the vehicle left.

There was no earthly excuse for the accident as the wagon was standing close up to the edge of the sidewalk on the only piece of the street that the town is possessed of, all the rest being used by the Railroad Company. The freight engine, however, was one of these large compound engines that are much wider than the ordinary engine and it did not permit of a wagon between the engine and the sidewalk. The engineer, however, did not seem to care about this but pushed his engine right along without blowing a warning whistle or anything else, and crashed into the wagon.

The damage done to the wagon was slight and a few dollars will be sufficient to repair it, but that is no reason why the engineer should have run into it. The matter will be reported to the company, who will probably pay for the damages done to the wagon.

U. C. Boat Club.

A large number of the students and Coeds of the University went down to Sessions Basin on Saturday afternoon last to witness and take part in the aquatic sports that had been planned for the afternoon.

The first event announced was the 100 yard swimming dash, open to all members of the University, which was won by Brakenburg '97, with DeLaney second. Time 1:35 3-5.

Some fine high diving from a stand 20 feet high came next and the first, second and third places were awarded to Ranson, Alexander and Baker, respectively.

The next swimming event was open to all and two contestants entered, viz. Ludlow and Eaton. Eaton was an easy winner in 1:30 4-5.

Brakenburg carried off the honors in the long diving contest, going a distance of 90 feet, and True a good second.

There were but three entries in the quarter mile race, Kennedy, Magee and Craig. Craig got winded before reaching the first turning point and dropped out. Kennedy made a spurt and came in first. Time 6:53 2-5.

The last event of the day was a polo game between a team captained by Ransom and another captained by Pierce. Ransom's team won after an exciting and amusing contest.

During the afternoon members of the boat crew gave an exhibition of the good points of their new shell, which is a model of beauty.

The closing feature of the day was a race of three blocks for the street cars in which all were winners.

In the suit of Morris Cohen vs. William Striker and his wife, a temporary order has been issued restraining until the hearing on the 23d inst. the defendant from selling milk in Berkeley. Cohen made an agreement by which the defendants agreed to refrain from selling milk for three years.

Notwithstanding the good shower a few days ago the dust was blowing in clouds on University avenue today.

WILL BE TROUBLE.

UNLESS THE S. P. COMPANY ARE A LITTLE MORE CAREFUL.

The Oakland Garbage Question Needs Action at Once or Sickness Will Prevail.

It is not to be supposed that our efficient Health Officer can get all over the town of Berkeley day by day and find out all the causes of disease which arise from putrid atmosphere made by vegetable decomposition. Any one having a complaint to make should immediately notify Dr. Rowell and he will attend to the matter. Now this will tell him that the garbage deposit being made by Oakland on the land at the north-western part of Berkeley is a matter that needs immediate looking after. The Southern Pacific Railroad is being paid for hauling this refuse from Oakland to Berkeley and the engineer, conductor, fireman and brakeman should be placed under arrest for violating one of the town ordinances.

The Health Officer, the Town Marshal or any of his deputies can see the violation every afternoon by going down to Delaware street. The terribly offensive smell can be noticed a mile away. Sickness and death are sure to come from it. Have the nuisance abated immediately and don't let the cholera come to Berkeley.

One Style of Reporter.

Fresno Expositor: A supernaturally developed reporter was on deck Friday afternoon at the Durrant trial and he showed his transcendent abilities as a cultured ass by his description of Mrs. Noble, the aunt with whom Blanche Lamont was living when she was lured to her death. He depicted her as "a slight, shrinking woman who might easily be driven into a hysterical collapse," who "to be sure had the nasal twang of the Middle West," and the lady's habiliments were as minutely described as though she were suspected of the murder herself.

And it is likely that every lady who may be called to testify in this case will be subjected to the same kind of criticism from this monstrous reporter, unless his city editor takes him out and injects a little reasonable common sense into his seat of sensibility with the toe of his boot.—Fresno Expositor.

The Golden Gate.

All Berkeleysans getting on or off the train at the Sixteenth street depot, Oakland, know of this famous resort. The genial John H. Murray, or "Jack" as he is known to his many patrons, is not to be outdone, but is always in the swim. Jack has had not only the Golden Gate saloon refitted and painted, but has had the entire building renovated and repainted. He keeps nothing but the purest of wines, liquors and cigars. Drop in while you wait for the train. If Jack is not there you will find his mixologist, Frank Logan, formerly of Berkeley.

GAZETTELETS.

On Saturday evening about 5 o'clock a Chinese sneak-thief entered the house at 2122 Bancroft way, occupied by several families, and on the pretense of seeking a man, entered the apartments of Mrs. Hoppin and stole a number of articles of value. He departed before suspicions were aroused.

A number of young boys of Berkeley are in training for a bicycle contest at the Oakland Racing Park. On Saturday they were there trying out the contestants to determine the handicap, when one of them, Joseph Jardine, fell upon the pedal, inflicting a severe wound. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital.

The cyclists were out in numbers yesterday whirling along the different avenues in Berkeley. Some of the ladies dresses were very handsome. All of them were pleasant to look at.

The San Francisco Call is very friendly to Berkeley and will shortly publish the inducements that West Berkeley has to offer manufacturers. The GAZETTE will assist in every way the coming newspaper of the Pacific Coast.

New York City has to go without liquor on Sunday. It was thought to be impossible to carry out the law in relation to its sale on the Sabbath. It is not supposed that the sale is entirely suppressed but to a great extent the law is observed.

No Premium.

The following is taken from the San Francisco Examiner of today and thoroughly explains itself:

A. W., Berkeley, Cal., and others.—We are at a loss to imagine where the report started that there was a $5 premium an 1894 10-cent pieces. There are hundreds of thousands of the 1894 coins in circulation and nobody will give more than a dime for one if he is sober enough to know what he is doing.

Whoa, Thar!

And step into Schmidt & Zehner's in the Shattuck Block and inspect those bread and cake knives that they sell for 50 cents. If you need any hardware, bird cages, pocket knives or tacks for bicycles. They have them. Call for anything in their line, and it will appear.

Fail Millinery.

Miss E. Barnett, formerly of No. 14 Grant avenue, San Francisco, but now on Center street opposite the Kellogg school, Berkeley, is now receiving her fall millinery. She has also dress making parlors and dress-makers' findings at Frisco prices. 8,

ABOUT A GOAT.

LOVERS OF SPUDS WILL BE INTERESTED IN CASEY'S GOAT.

What the University Boys Did on Saturday at Sessions Beach.

Casey knew what he was doing when he bet the engine would not run over his goat. The animal has had quite an amount of training, and sometimes appears to have as much knowledge as a human being. His first education was in enumeration. By placing a number of apples upon the ground and a basket beside he was taught to pick them up, put them in the receptacle and carry the load into the house. To teach him to distinguish numbers was the work which required time and patience. This Casey, had and eventually, when directed to put half a dozen in the basket, he would do it time and time again without making a mistake.

One day when the master was digging potatoes the goat joined in and could get them out of the ground faster than the owner.

After this he was taught to go out and get a certain number for breakfast and the animal faithfully complied.

One day in the way of a joke Casey told a friend to go out in the field and get twenty potatoes in a basket and bring them in the house. The friend went on the errand, and the goat followed him.

The required number was soon obtained but he thought he would put a couple more in the basket for good measure. No sooner had this been done when the goat got up on his hind legs and gave the man such a butt that he was knocked over and before he could overcome his fright the goat had seized the basket and run for the house with it.

If the goat was sent to a neighboring lot for any purpose and his feet should get muddy before he reached the adjoining lot he would get on top of the fence and wipe his feet off so as not to carry any of his master's land on to that of the neighbor.

This goat, with a face so childlike and bland, is very watchful of his master's property and will not permit a stranger upon the premises. Many a poor fellow has been knocked over for not paying more attention to this innocent looking creature.

Any passer by can nearly always see him lying down on the owner's premises chewing the cud of contentment but with eyes that look in all directions for any trespasser.

Very Sad.

On Monday last Clarence Lough, a young boy eleven years of age, a member of the Kellogg School, against the wishes of his mother went to Emeryville to fish and after catching a fish in the exuberance of his feelings fell overboard and was drowned, his body not being recovered until Saturday morning last.

He was laid away in the tomb yesterday morning and the love that his schoolmates had for him and the esteem that his parents were held in was made manifest yesterday by the large number of friends and acquaintances that attended the funeral obsequies and from the numerous floral pieces that were sent in.

The sympathy of the whole community goes out to the afflicted parents and the GAZETTE, in common with the numerous friends of the family, offers its condolence in this their dark hour, when their only son has been taken from them.

HOME INDUSTRY.

Berkeley has two good-sized plants where oil is taken from vegetable material and manufactured into an article of commerce and sent all over the United States. There is also a home demand for these productions. For the productions of cocoa nut oil cobra has to be brought from a very long distance which adds to the expense, yet there is a demand for all that is put out. Competition is met with by a production of this oil in England.

Linseed oil is also produced at both of these factories in good quantities and it finds a quick market.

In order to make these factories entirely workers in home material it should be the product of California soil. Here the question arises what can be grown in sufficient quantities to give these factories sufficient raw vegetable matter from which oil can be expressed and the residue applied to good use and a saleable article? The answer is easily given and many will be surprised at its simplicity.

It is well known that the seed of the sunflower produces a good percentage of oil that can be used commercially and that the residue furnishes one of the very best kind of food both for animals and the feathered tribe.

Many farmers already raise small quantities of these seeds especially for the supplying of hens with egg producing food. Hens are extremely fond of the seeds and prefer them to either corn, wheat or barley. This food not only keeps poultry in good order but the meat is of much better quality when made of this tissue, to say nothing of the quality of eggs resulting from the consumption of this kind of diet.

Cows keep in fine condition from eating a certain amount of this meal cake. The milk is enriched and the amount of cream from which butter follows is increased to a great degree. Almost any kind of land will answer for the growth of this vegetable matter. No special care is required after the seed is planted and the expense of gathering the crop is but nominal. No doubt the large majority of farmers are unaware that there is a market for sunflower seed. This article is for the purpose of letting the public know that purchasers can be found for almost any quantity that can be brought to market.

In speaking of this matter to one of the proprietors of one of the Berkeley plants he informed a GAZETTE representative that he had often thought of the matter and in fact to the extent that he should plant this next season fifty acres of land with sunflower seeds. The variety he prefers is that generally known as the Russian. It costs no more to raise and the heads grow to a very large size and the seeds are consequently obtained in good quantities.

About Berkeley there are hundreds of places that could be utilized for this purpose. As the expense of raising is only nominal the poor man can go into the business as well as the man who has an abundance of this world's goods.

There is probably no doubt but that everyone who has a small quantity of land could make some money by raising such quantities as his space would allow.

When ready for market if the oil works owner should be notified that he could procure this material he would make arrangements to send teams about for the purpose of gathering here and there such quantities as each party would have to sell, and thus among the many there would be sufficient raw material to keep a fair-sized mill going all the year after one season had been used for the raising.

Not only would the seed be thus utilized, but the stalk itself which grows to six feet high could be used for various purposes; if for no other, when well dried in the open air, it makes good material for fire wood.

All of this goes to show how a good paying industry could be established in our midst which would give work for a good many people, and a good sum of money would be the result of it where just now there is nothing. Think of it, fellow citizens, and then go into the business. It cannot be crowded for many years to come.

The Railroad Commissioners have reduced the rate of freight upon wheat over the Southern Pacific Company's lines 8 per cent, and on all other commodities 25 per cent. Commissioners La Rue and Stanton voted for it, and Clark against it. The latter stated he was in favor of reduction, but not to the extent it was made.

The contractors for building the Valley Road have now got under good headway and will push the road right along without any delay. People will be surprised to see how fast the work can be done when under a competent head.

Two women have been nominated by the Republicans of Salt Lake for positions in the next Legislature. One for the Upper House and one for the Lower.

Thanks.

We desire to thank the people of West Berkeley and vicinity for their patronage during our short stay. We will return to Berkeley and be at the same location, corner Seventh street and University avenue. Will positively remain only one week, from Monday September 16th to Monday September 23rd. Remember we only charge $1.50 for cabinet photos and guarantee entire satisfaction. Yours respectfully, L. A. GREEN, Photo Co.

There is one thing in this world that in order to give satisfaction has got to be perfect, and that is a photograph. Naturally the artist who is thorough in his business and produces perfect pictures gets the trade. This accounts for the immense business done by Evans, the photographer at 1065 Washington street. He takes the finest cabinets in the land for $3 per dozen and has a large Berkeley patronage.

BISMARCK'S BIG HEAD.

Measurements Showing That the Space For Brains In It Is Extraordinary.

Bismarck's head, says a correspondent of L'Anthropologie, has been carefully measured according to the rules of anthropometry by the sculptor Schap of Berlin, who made the statue of Bismarck set up at Cologne. The measurements prove that Bismarck has a head of extraordinarily large size. Measured horizontally from the frontal bone to the occiput the head is 213 millimeters, or more than 8.35 inches. The distance from temple to temple is 170 millimeters, or a trifle over 6.69 inches. Bismarck's cranium has a capacity of 1,965 cubic centimeters, and his brain should weigh 1,887 grams.

These figures become especially significant when compared with the measurements of other heads. Of 2,600 heads measured at Baden Baden only one exceeded 200 millimeters horizontally from front to back, and that one measured 206 millimeters, or six millimeters less than Bismarck's. The mean measurements of 30 members of the Natural Science Society at Karlsruhe were 195 millimeters from front to back by 155 millimeters from temple to temple. The biggest of these heads measured 205 by 182 millimeters. The cubic measurement of 245 German heads was nearly 500 cubic centimeters under Bismarck's, while the estimated weight of Bismarck's brain is 35 per cent above that of the average adult European brain. In fact, Bismarck is a man not only of blood and iron, but as well of brains.

He Knew Her Perfectly.

The outspoken ways and caustic sayings of Dr. Jephson of Leamington, celebrated in the forties and fifties, have furnished the kernel of many anecdotes. One day he was called on by one whom Brantome would have called "une grande dame de par la monde," the Marchioness of —. Having listened to a description of her malady, the oracle pronounced judgment:

"An egg and a cup of tea for breakfast, then walk for two hours; a slice of cold beef and half a glass of madeira for luncheon, then walk again for two hours; fish, except salmon, and a outlet of wing of fowl for dinner, with a single glass of madeira or claret; to bed at 10 and rise at 6, etc. No carriage exercise, please."

"But, doctor," she exclaimed at last, thinking he was mistaken in his visitor, "pray, do you know who I am? Do you know—ahem!—my position?"

"Perfectly, madame," was the reply. "I am prescribing for an old woman with a deranged stomach."—Nineteenth Century.

The Polton Jack.

From the day he is born to the day of his death no brush or comb is ever allowed to be used on him, and as, from the unnatural condition in which he is kept, he is prevented in a great measure from shedding his coat the functions of the skin become suspended, and the animal gradually assumes year after year an accumulation of coats, all matted together with stable filth, till at length they almost trail on the ground. When he has assumed this extraordinary and bearlike appearance, he is pointed to with no little pride by his owner and is termed boursilloux, or sometimes guenilloux. Such is ignorance and prejudice. —From "Horses, Asses, Zebras, Mules," by W. B. Tegetmeier.
